seamless secure communication

A tapped phone call is more than just bad news!

Voice over IP – for secure communication

Today and tomorrow

Secusmart uses the open SIP standard (Session Initiation Protocol), which transmits voice over the Internet in individual data packets.

The usage of this technology turns Secusmart solutions into secure future investments.

Small card – big effect

So what does this mean for you?

■ For all landline systems

■ For mobile communication

■ For carriers of secrets

■ For global players

■ For all types of data

It's the convenience that makes security really safe

No one would wear safety helmets if they always caused headaches.
That's why all Secusmart solutions combine intuitive handling with modern ease of use.

Since 2009 Secusmart delivers the German authorities with SecuVOICE
